CENTRAL RECORD

ISSUED WEEKLY. $100 A YEAR.

F. S. HUGHES, Edr.-Pubr.

Member Ky. Press Association.
Eighth District Publishers League.

Lancaster, Ky., November 6, 1908.

Salutatory.

Having purchased THE CENTRAL RECORD plant, including the subscription list and the good will of my predecessor, the big hearted and big-brained Louis Landram, I beg to make my bow and send greeting and good will to the public. I shall continue the paper and the job office, and though I am deeply sensible of the responsibility which attaches to the position, I hope, by fair dealing, and the publication of a conservative and consistent paper, free from malice or ill-will, to merit the patronage which my predecessor enjoyed, and more, which may be obtained by solicitation.

I hope to receive the exchanges which are on the list, and I request all correspondents to continue their excellent service. Since it will be expected that I shall lay down the policies of the paper, by a platform of principles to be adhered to, or a salutatory or an inaugural statement, so to speak, the paper will be devoted to the best interests of Lancaster and Garrard County. The good of our people and the advancement of those principles which insure their happiness shall be paramount in determining our course on any question. Having always believed in the principles of the Democratic party, it goes without saying, that the paper will advocate those principles, and use all honorable means to aid in the election of candidates nominated on those principles. All corrupt methods, in politics, commerce, social life or in anything whatever, will be earnestly opposed.

My father, M. D. Hughes, will help me for awhile each week until I can take charge. I have adopted the motto to which he used for a time at the head of a journal which he published, and I shall use it and defend the principles suggested by it. The motto follows: Pure religion, Untarnished Democracy and Good Government. In this we see all that is good and excellent in life. I ask the indulgence of the public until I am fully equipped for the work that is before me. Let us hold each other up and offer help and comfort in hours of adversity.

F. S. HUGHES.

Valutatory.

In retiring from the tripod of THE CENTRAL RECORD, I take this method of expressing to every patron of "The Home Paper" my most profound gratitude for every kind of encouragement and for every penny dropped into the till of the enterprise during the fourteen years I have tutored at the oars to keep the ship afloat and issue a paper giving strictly the news of Lancaster and Garrard County. During this time, our efforts have been largely devoted to printing matter that would build up the town and county, and bring business here, yet my chief purpose has been to keep the columns of this paper free from anything that would cause a heart ache or was calculated in any way to question or besmirch the character of any one. We have had nothing to say in regard to politics, because we believe the time has long since arrived when the right-thinking voter must weigh well in his own mind the character and qualifications of the candidate before lending aid in placing him in control of public affairs.

As stated above, I appreciate, more than feeble pen is able to express, the patronage of those business men in Lancaster and Garrard County who have supported the paper, and, while it has become necessary to cast my lot elsewhere, my most earnest desire and sincere wish is that the splendid advantages and opportunity of Lancaster and Garrard County will yet attract attention of those in position to bring them before the financial world and that our people will receive what is justly due them.

I have sold THE CENTRAL RECORD to Mr. F. S. Hughes, a son of my friend, Judge M. D. Hughes. This sale includes the plant, subscription list, good will and all pertaining to the business. All those owing the office for subscription or job work will confer a favor, not only upon myself but upon my successor, by calling at the office and paying same to Mr. Hughes. Any favors in the way of job work or subscription given to my worthy and deserving successor will be appreciated by me. I thank you, my friends, many times over for the patronage you have given me, and in bidding you adieu my greatest desire is that you will, as our old friend, Rip Van Winkle said "Live Long and Prosper", and that we will all eventually meet in "That City Not Made by Hands, Eternal in the Heavens."

Verily,
Louis Landram.

Some one put crow eggs under our game hen and we have no roosters for this issue.

In the late election the people were arrayed against predatory wealth and they lost in the battle.

The panic and the Brownville affair would have defeated Taft if the fostered children of his party had not put up money enough to buy his election.

Let the democrats start an educational campaign, teaching the people that honor and justice are more to be desired than much gold.

Although the democrats lost on Tuesday, they should clean their guns and go at it again. No compromise should be made, for democratic principles were not born to die, but are inherent in the nature of things, and though crushed down for awhile, by corruption and filthy lucre, like truth they will rise again. Such is the history of all that is pure, right and just, and of all principles which promote the general welfare.

The Presidential election being over, we hope that the people will come down gradually so as to meet with no disasters, as they have been up in the air for some time. This election comes too often. The President can serve two terms, and if he were elected 8 years at the start, it would save commercial disturbances, and many disappointments.

But the strangest thing in our history is the fact that Roosevelt virtually serves 16 years, and it may be 24 years, if he and his man Taft stand in with the corporations that have grown rich by protective tariff and other special favors, given them by the Republican party. It might be Roosevelt 8 more years, through Taft, and 8 more for himself, after Taft. This is one man rule so glaring that it savors of a monarchy. We had as well have him the third and fourth term as to have the man he names.

WAS PRISON OF JOAN OF ARC.

Foundation of Ancient Tower Dug Out in Convent Grounds at Rouen.

The prison of Joan of Arc has just been located near Rouen. The foundations of the ancient tower in which it was have been discovered and opened up through some new construction work undertaken by the government in the grounds of the Ursuline convent, from which the nuns have recently been expelled.

The workmen in digging for the new foundations came upon a massive wall enclosing a circular space with a diameter of about 36 feet. When this was cleared of earth a well was found in the center measuring six feet across and about 30 feet in depth. Water rose in it clear and cold as soon as the earth had been cleared away from the bottom.

When the antiquarians got busy they identified the wall as the foundation of a building which was known for ages as "The Maid's Tower." A document dating back to 1641 was produced, which, taking it for granted that this tower had been the prison of the Maid of Orleans 210 years previously, gave a description and measurements of it, including the well, which unmistakably watch the ruins just examined.

The structure appears to have stood unchanged from the death of Joan in 1431 to 1590, when it was reduced to ruins in the course of a siege. In 1769 the city leased the site on which the ruin stood to Louis Mouchard.

In 1780 he appears to have stopped paying the rent. The greater part of the ruin was cleared away about this time, but as late as 1789 a visitor writing about the place mentions the foundation of the tower as visible and speaks of the well. After that it was filled in with earth and later the site became part of the nuns' garden and the existence of the ruin and the tradition attaching to it were forgotten.

This remedy is for sale by F. P. Friable.

We Solicit Your Business

How Much Could You Get For Your Farm?

You are a farmer. You live near this town. You own land. Let us say that you own more than you need and would like to sell a hundred acres.

How much could you get per acre? Land values have risen lately. But has the value of your land risen as you think it should?

Your land is good land. You think it is worth considerably more than anybody has offered you. Well, let us see. A man buying farm land naturally prefers to locate near a thriving, up to date town. He wants good home markets for his crops. He wants good schools.

Let us say your land is three miles from town. A farm that looks very much like yours is three miles from a town twice as big and twice as prosperous as this town.

If you were going to buy a farm for your own occupancy, wouldn't you pay a whole lot more for land near the town that is twice as large as twice as lively?

Of course you would. It would be good business.

Now, what makes a town big and bustling? Money. Money in circulation. Not in circulation in Chicago, for instance, but right in the town that wants to grow.

How much money have you sent to the big Mail Order houses in the city the past ten years? How much have your neighbors sent? How much have all of you together put out of circulation here at home?

It is probably beyond calculation. If all that money had been spent in your own home town, isn't it reasonable to assume that the town would have grown more than it has grown?

Wouldn't this town be a bigger and better town?

Wouldn't it have more stores to buy your produce?

Wouldn't it have more public improvements to make it more attractive to outsiders who might come here to live, to go into business, or buy your surplus land at a good figure?

TO TRADE AT HOME MEANS TO HELP THE TOWN AND THE NEIGHBORHOOD. TO HELP THE TOWN AND THE NEIGHBORHOOD MEANS TO HELP YOURSELF.

It acts on nature's plan, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. During the many years in which it has been in general use we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of the grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by F P Frisbie, 1m

The commission appointed by President Roosevelt for the purpose of inquiring as to what may be done to better the condition of the agricultural workers of the country will hold its first meeting at the Agricultural College of Maryland to day. The commission will then go south to devote the next ten days to hearings in the States south of Washington and east of the Mississippi River.

It has been estimated that in the best corn fields the crop is only sixty five per cent of what it might have been and many crops are not over forty per cent of a perfect yield. It is said if the farmers of this country had been able to add one grain more to each ear this year the total increase would have been more than one and one half million bushels.—Winchester Democrat.

In regard to fattening hogs on skim milk, with corn and waste from the kitchen, this is one of the most important branches of dairy work where there is an abundance of skim milk.

The best advice I can give in relation to fattening hogs is to advise the collection of bulletins on this subject from the various experiment stations and perhaps some books relative to this subject.

Pig pens as a rule, are very objectionable about a dairy, owing to the odor that always attends them. For this reason they must be put at some distance from the milk house or else distanced in well drained pens with cement floors, or it will be impossible to make fine butter when the wind comes from the direction of the pens.

With ordinary handling, skim milk works best with suckling sows and young hogs. Skim milk has the growth rather than the fattening food qualities and therefore better for making the frame rather than fattening the hog. With proper skill, however, both can be accomplished with it. To do this, however, the feeder must be thoroughly posted, and that is why I advise considerable study on the subject.—Home and Farm.

IN LINE AT THE RECEPTION.

Sad Story of Unfortunate Young Man and Buoy Ladies.

The anemic young man with the intellectual face hadn't wanted to go to the reception any of the time, but the fell clutch of circumstances had so tightened that the fatal afternoon found him there at the head of the reception line.

"Mrs. Smith," chirped the hostess, "allow me to present Mr. Montmorency."

"How do you do? Lovely day, isn't it?" Mrs. Jones, this is Mr. Ranchy.

"Excuse me," began the young man, who was rather attached to his own name; but Mrs. Jones was already beyond human interference.

"I'm so glad to meet you. Are you related to the explorer? Mrs. Brown, let me present Mr. Nansen."

The young man's face was considerably redder than when he started, but he had not yet reached the end.

"So glad. Nice weather, isn't it? Do you know, one really needs a parasol. Miss Smith, this is Mr. Hansen."

"You'll pardon me, but my name is—"

"Oh, I don't think it's peculiar at all. Mrs. Johnson, Mr. Panta."

"I was just going to say," began the desperate young man, when the lady shook a warning finger at him.

"That you were the original bad boy. You young men are so dreadfully wicked these days. Gertrude—Gertrude, come here, dear—this is Mr. Peck."

He gritted his teeth, but the matter was past help.

"I'm glad to meet you," said the Sweet Young Thing. "Won't you come into the dining room and have some coffee? I don't believe I quite caught your name—Mr. Peckles, isn't it?"

Persons of a sensitive nature will appreciate how it pleased the young man some 15 minutes later when he expired, after partaking of a dish of very green ice cream.—Puck.

His Term of Endurance.

"Does your husband still call you his pearl and his gem and all that?" asked the young matron.

"Not exactly," answered the elder one doubtfully. "He has taken to calling me his gold brick of late and I'm not just sure what he means by it."

"It has the right sound," suggested the younger one.

"Yes," admitted the elder, "but it's hard to say whether he gets his definition from the slang dictionary or the regular one."—Chicago Post.

DATE IMPOSSIBLE TO FORGET.

Mrs. Lombard Certainly Had Cinch on Her Hubby's Memory.

A smile lurked at the corners of Mrs. Lombard's mouth as she listened to the plaint of the school friend whom she had not seen for more than ten years. "I'm afraid, dear," she said, "you'll have to reconstruct some of your plans. You see I married a forgetful man too."

"Why you told me not ten minutes ago that your husband had never yet forgotten your birthday or your wedding anniversary," cried her friend; "and you told me you'd been married nearly 11 years! That's ever since the year after father took us all abroad."

"Yes," said Mrs. Lombard, demurely. "I have; that's a long time, isn't it? But you see one thing was in my favor—I was born on the Fourth of July. Mr. Lombard couldn't very well forget the national holiday. And as soon as I'd found out how forgetful he was I decided to be married on another holiday."

"I suppose as you were abroad you didn't realize that the date of my wedding was unusual—people aren't often married on the twenty-second of February, I think. But you see by a little judicious planning I've been saved the necessity of reminding him about our anniversary."—Youth's Companion.

JUSTICE BROWN'S ONE LETTER.

Point in Argument Not Intended by the Great Jurist.

Mr. Justice Brown, of the United States supreme court, now retired, was addressing a class of young lawyers in Detroit, Mich., which was his home before he went to Washington, according to the Saturday Evening Post.

"In my opinion," said the learned justice to the young men, "lawyers just starting out in life are prone to put too much reliance on letters of introduction. They go to a new town to settle down and take letters to help them along instead of relying on their own abilities, and not on the help others can extend to them. I hear of young men taking a dozen or two letters into new places. Now, I do not believe in that. Why, to show you how it is a matter of principle with me, I will inform you that I brought but one letter of introduction with me when I came to Detroit, only one."

The justice here paused and looked around to see what effect his words had. One young man piped up and said:

"Rufus Choate," he replied, and he doesn't to this day understand why the class roared with laughter.

He Obeyed Orders.

A ranchman living in that locality noticed a small bunch of teal that were in the habit of using a pond not far from his dwelling. He requested Legrand to try his luck with them the next morning when they could be easily found. Legrand, however, was short of ammunition, so the ranchman gave him a shell, which he jokingly remarked was enough for a good shot, and he expected him to come back with the whole bunch, numbering six.

On the ensuing day Legrand departed before sunrise, but returned to breakfast empty-handed. "No ducks, Legrand!" He shook his head: "No ducks." The next morning the result was the same. "No ducks, Legrand!" "No ducks."

The third morning a shot was heard. Legrand returned with three beautiful blue-winged teal hanging from each shoulder.

"Legrand, how did you manage to have so much luck, with a shot when you were not able to get anything the two preceding mornings?"

"To-day," he replied, "was the first time I could get them lined up so that I could bag them all at one shot."—Forest and Stream.

At Homes for Customers.

"Shopping at homes" is the latest idea of a dressmaker in Paris. The decorations of the hall of her establishment are carried out in a Wedgewood design. The balustrade is cushioned with red velvet. There is a old rose salon, where the walls are paneled in white, and the carpets, curtains and luxurious couches are of old rose brocade. In the gold salon the walls are paneled and the furniture upholstered in gold brocade. In these rooms tea is served, with things to eat, and fashionable women may look at the gowns on the models and chat about their merits, even if purchasing is far from their thoughts.

We are nearing the hot months when the infantile death rate will take its annual abrupt upward turn, and in four or five weeks this mortality will once more show itself in its customary shockingness. Much of it is due to milk, and not necessarily to milk that was impure before delivery. If the parents of the community wish to save the babies, the remedy for the summer ill rests to a large extent with themselves. Watchfulness of the milk bottle from this time on will go a long way in preventing the dreaded diseases which mean so much in the country's vital statistics.—Detroit Free Press.

The Vanity of Woman.

Dismal Dave—Wonder why 'tis dat wimmen is mos' allers better lookin' dan us men is?

Lazy Luke—Dat's a easy one. A woman washes her face 'most every day jist for de looks uv it.

Willing to Dodge It.

"I've got a notion to knock you into the middle of next week," growled the belligerent person.

"Go ahead," said the other man. "I've got a date with the dentist for next Saturday."—Judge.

Worse Looking Than He Felt.

Baboon—Me boy, you look as if you had just stepped out of a fashion-plate.

Crimsonbeak—That so? I knew I had rheumatism, but I didn't suppose I was as stiff as that!—Harlem Life.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism. It is a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn hoary growths back to fresh again. That is impossible, but I can now surely kill the pain and cause of this terrible disease.

In Germany—a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the old ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made—a perfect, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, as I have found the old ingredient, I can now surely kill the pain and cause of this terrible disease.

And then, when dissolved, these powerful waters free men from the pains, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no special cause to suffer longer with our help. We sell, and in confidence recommend

FEEBLE OLD LADY
Has Strength Restored By Vinol

Mrs. Michael Bloom of Lewistown, Pa., who is 80 years of age, says: "For a long time I have been so feeble that I have had to be wheeled around in an invalid's chair. I had no strength and took cold at the slightest provocation, which invariably settled on my lungs, and a cough would result. My son learned of the cod liver preparation called Vinol, and procured a bottle for me. It built up my strength rapidly, and after taking three bottles I am able to do most of my work, and I can walk a quarter of a mile easily. Every aged or weak person who requires strength should try Vinol. I am delighted with what it has done for me."

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, and after sickness, Vinol is unequalled. If it fails to give satisfaction we will return your money.
